

Every node connects to a central node A, then the other connections to that node from A get excluded and everything stays the same.

Consulted Prof. Squire and he said it is okay to submit this. The same notation continues for any node.